

Migrant Returns to UK After France Trip

A man sent from the UK to France has returned. This is part of a "one in, one out" plan to stop small boat crossings. The UK wants to send him back.

The UK and France agreed to send people back if they come in small boats. The UK sent 94 people back, but many still try to come.

Some think the UK isn't doing well with the plan. They want more countries to help send people back. The UK says they're making borders safer.