

Ryanair's boss, Michael O'Leary, could get a bonus over €100 million if he stays until 2028, as the airline's share price stayed high for 28 days.

Some say the bonus is too big. A group said one person shouldn't get so much money, as other Ryanair workers also help but earn less.

Wizz Air's boss bonus plan may not be met due to low share prices. Ryanair asked some Spanish workers to return pay raises after a legal issue.