

Talk on Human Rights in Europe

The UK wants to update the European Convention on Human Rights to keep it strong and fair. This helps trust in the rule of law.

Some think human rights help rule-breakers more. This can make people lose trust. The UK aims to make rights fair for all.

The Convention should change to stay important. The UK wants to help. This will keep rights strong and keep people trusting it.