

UN Talks About Indigenous Peoples

The UN helps older and indigenous people. They use sports to change views and want everyone to work together for a better world.

In December 2023, the UN held the Silver Economy Forum to help older people. They also celebrated World Basketball Day to show how sports unite us.

The UN supports people with disabilities and their rights. They have special days to remind everyone to treat all people with respect and dignity.