

Talking About Rules and Checks

Tim says checking can be hard for helpers, especially at Christmas. He got lots of papers to fill out and wonders if it really helps people.

Tim thinks we should focus on what matters to people, build trust, save money, work together, and share information.

Tim wants to talk about making monitoring better to help improve lives. He hopes others will join in this talk.