

Cold Weather Coming to the UK

Cold Arctic air is bringing colder weather and possible snow to the UK. After Storm Claudia's rain, it will be drier but much colder.

In Monmouth, Wales, people are helping each other after the floods. The River Monnow reached record levels, causing a major incident. Many homes lost.

It will be 5-10°C in the UK. Snow might come in the north. Winds from the north make it feel colder. The weather changed from warm to cold.
