

New Plans for Marine Licences

A new plan wants to make marine licences easier to get. This will help with clean energy and keep the seas safe. The UK Major Ports Group and Marine.

They use a sandbox to test new ideas. This makes things quicker and better for people and the environment. They meet to discuss what works.

This new way helps us work better together. More meetings will help improve things for a smarter and greener UK.