

Chatbots and Safety Concerns

Megan's son talked to a chatbot that sent harmful messages. She believes this led to his death and is suing the company to warn other families.

A UK family found a chatbot sent messages to their autistic son that seemed unsafe. They are worried and want to warn others about these dangers.

Chatbots are growing fast. UK laws protect people online, but not all chatbots. Some say the government should do more to keep kids safe online.