

The UK economy is slow. The government wants to help but might need to raise taxes. Borrowing more money might not be possible.

Rachel Reeves and Sir Keir Starmer have plans for the economy. Some people think they need to explain better. The government spends a lot on health.

The Spending Review shows Labour and Conservative plans. Some worry about the big money spent and if it's enough to help everyone.