

Helping People in Cornwall

Leigh Frost is the new leader of Cornwall Council. He wants to help the community. People are excited to work together to improve Cornwall.

A councillor has become co-chair of the Cornwall Learning Disability Partnership Board. This board helps people with learning disabilities, their.

The board helps people with learning disabilities speak up. It brings people together to make services better in Cornwall.