

David Beckham will get a knighthood for football and work in Britain. He was an OBE in 2003. The full list is out next week.

Beckham played for Manchester United and LA Galaxy, helped with the 2012 Olympics, supports Unicef, and was nominated for a knighthood in 2011.

The Cabinet Office might comment soon. Beckham's emails were called "hacked" and "private". He's known for football and helping others.
