

There were fights in Los Angeles over raids on people without papers. President Trump sent 2,000 soldiers to help. Many were arrested.

California's Governor Newsom and Los Angeles Mayor Bass are upset about the raids. They say the raids are causing fear and hurting families. The.

Some people are scared and want the raids to stop. The FBI told protesters to stay calm. The President thinks the National Guard will help.