

There aren't enough social homes in the UK. People wait a long time for a home. Some live in crowded places or have no home. This is a big problem.

Many homes have mould and damp. People are upset. The government should spend more money to fix this.

New rules will help people in social homes. Repairs will be faster and housing groups will do their jobs well. Everyone deserves a safe home.