

BBC Leaders Resign

Tim Davie and Deborah Turness left the BBC after a report said a show changed a speech by US President Trump. They emailed staff about leaving.

Tim Davie is leaving the BBC after 20 years. He feels proud but thinks it's time for a new leader to plan for the future.

Deborah Turness is leaving because of issues with the Trump show. She trusts the BBC and will help with the change to new leaders.