

The UK government is working to stop illegal working. They have made 6,000 arrests and visited 9,000 places to stop immigration crime.

Teams check towns for rule breakers at places like restaurants and sites. Some bosses treat workers badly. The government wants to stop this.

The government has new rules. Bosses must check if workers can work in the UK. If not, bosses can get big fines or go to prison.

Gangs trick people into bad jobs in the UK. The government wants to protect them and ensure rules are followed.