

A man from Pembrokeshire lied to get £150,000 in Covid loans. He got a two-year suspended sentence and must do 300 hours of unpaid work.

Afzal got loans for his companies, then moved the money to personal accounts. The Insolvency Service wants the money back.

The Bounce Back loan was for small businesses during Covid. It wasn't for personal use and had to be paid back. Misusing it had consequences.
