

A photographer was hurt in LA during protests. He was hit by a plastic bullet and needed surgery.

People in Los Angeles are upset about more immigration raids. Protests have led to clashes with police, and some people have been hurt.

Nick was hurt but helped by people. A medic stopped the bleeding. He wants to go back to work to show how important the protests are.

The US President sent the National Guard to Los Angeles, but the local governor wants them gone. The situation is still tense.