

Marks and Spencer is taking online orders again after a cyber attack. People can buy fashion items online, with more items and delivery soon.

The cyber attack over Easter hit payments and orders. M&S will lose money. Some customer data was stolen, but no payment info or passwords.