

The FSA boss says working well with the UK meat industry is key to handling costs and trade issues, keeping people safe.

Katie talked about using new tools to improve meat checks. Businesses pay for meat rules, and small ones get a discount. The FSA might change these discounts.

Katie is hopeful about working together. She thinks new ways and strong partnerships will keep the UK meat industry top-class.