

World Social Summit News

The World Summit for Social Development began in 1995. Leaders met to talk about making life better for people and promised to work on social development.

In 2025, the UN will have a big meeting in Qatar called the Second World Social Summit to make life better for everyone.

The meeting will talk about fixing problems like poverty, jobs, and helping people with disabilities to have a good life.