

UK Talks About Venezuela

The UK spoke at the UN about Venezuela. The situation is worse, with unfair arrests and a justice system that doesn't help. New laws make it harder.

The UK wants problems to stop and praised OHCHR's work in Venezuela to help protect people's rights.

The UK is worried about how problems affect families, especially women and girls. They want to learn more about the impact.