

A former police chief, Grant Hardin, escaped prison but was quickly caught nearby. He was in prison for serious crimes.

He dressed as a policeman to escape. Police found him with dogs after two weeks. The Governor said people can feel safer now.

Hardin, a former police chief, was in prison for killing in 2017 and linked to a 1997 rape. He was called the "Devil in the Ozarks."