

Three men charged with starting fires at homes linked to Sir Keir Starmer will go to trial in April 2026. They all deny the charges.

In May, fires happened in north London, Islington flats, and Sir Keir's home in Kentish Town. Firefighters helped one person escape.

The men are accused of starting a fire to harm. Mr Lavrynovych and Mr Carpiuc went to court by video. Mr Pochynok stayed in his cell.
