

New Law to Stop Harmful Videos

The UK will ban showing strangulation in porn to help keep women safe. This is part of a plan to stop violence against women and girls.

A review showed that content makes violence seem normal. The change to the Crime and Policing Bill aims to make streets safer and help victims.

Strangling is never safe. Videos showing this can be harmful. The Government wants to stop this and say hurting women is not okay.