

The UK and EU made a deal for Gibraltar. It keeps Gibraltar's economy safe, British rule strong, and stops border checks with Spain.

Gibraltar needed a deal because it wasn't in Brexit. Many cross the Gibraltar-Spain border daily for work. Without it, waits and checks would be long.

Gibraltar's Chief Minister, Fabian Picardo, helped make a deal. It keeps UK military control and helps flights to the EU.

Gibraltar will have an easy border with Spain. It stays British, and the area stays calm. A final deal will be made soon.
