

World Environment Day 2025

World Environment Day is on 5 June. This year it's about stopping plastic pollution with events like talks, clean-ups, and art shows.

UNESCO helps over 80,000 schools in 87 countries be more green with committees and teacher training on sustainability.

UN Peacekeeping uses green energy and better tools to help the planet. They aim to leave projects that help local communities.