

A couple broke a shiny chair at a museum while taking pictures. The museum asks everyone to be careful and respect art.

The "Van Gogh" chair by Nicola Bolla is made with Swarovski crystals. It looks strong but is fragile. The museum fixed it, and it's on display again.

Art is delicate. Treat it with care and respect when visiting.