

New NHS Maternity Investigation

The UK is checking NHS maternity and baby care to help sad families and make care safer by fixing problems.

The check will help families and experts to find out what went wrong. It will focus on helping Black, Asian, and other families get fair care.

The government will improve care with new computers and staff training. They aim for safe, kind care for all by December 2025.