

Alexander Walker, 25, is the new mayor of Rhyl. He is autistic and wants to help young people join in their communities.

Alexander helps his mum and grandparents. He wants to support mental health charities and help young people in the community.

Alexander joined the council online during lockdown. He wants to help mental health by raising money and removing stigma.