

David Lammy went to Gibraltar to talk about a deal after Brexit. He will now go to Brussels for more talks about the border with Spain.

Gibraltar is a small UK area near Spain. Talks aim to make crossing the border easier without passport stamping.

Gibraltar wants to stay British. Talks have problems like Spanish roles at the airport and port. Most people in Gibraltar voted to stay British.