

Exercise Catamaran was a big military event in North Devon. Over 3,000 people from different countries practised skills on land and water.

The training was the biggest since World War 2, part of POLARIS 25, with many ships and planes. The Royal Marines led the UK team.

DIO planned the event with other countries to ensure safe and useful training. They kept Branton Burrows open for public visits.

The training helped countries work together in tough places. The DIO team made sure it was safe and well planned.
