

Susan's Story at Work

Susan works as a learning disability support manager. She leads a team, checks referrals, and handles data collection.

The admin team helps people with learning disabilities. Susan loves her job and is proud to make a difference in the community.

Susan's job is busy with many tasks. She enjoys helping people. The community learning disability team supports people with learning disabilities.