

Questions About Spy Case

Two men were accused of spying for China but said they didn't do it. The case was dropped due to lack of proof, upsetting many people.

Kemi Badenoch asked the prime minister why a case was dropped and why the government didn't stand up to China. She wants answers.

Some say the government didn't show China as a threat. There's proof of spying. The Liberal Democrats want to stop a new Chinese embassy in London.