

Letters About Inflation in June 2025

The Bank of England and Chancellor wrote letters because inflation was 3.5% in April 2025, over 1% from the target. Letters sent on 19 June 2025.

These letters help the Monetary Policy Committee understand inflation changes. This is important for making money decisions.

You can ask for the letters in a format that is easier to read. If you want to know more, you can get emails about updates.