

The Prime Minister talked to leaders of France and Germany about Iran's nuclear plans, asking for calm to avoid making things worse.

The leaders agree Israel can defend itself. They think talking for peace is better than fighting. They plan to talk again soon.