

The CMA wants to know if Google should be excused from some promises after stopping a plan that might have helped its online ads business in the UK.

Promises were to keep Chrome fair with cookies. The CMA thinks they might not be needed. People can share thoughts until 4 July 2025.