

Scotland will play Liechtenstein in a friendly on Monday. McTominay and Tierney will miss it due to injury. Watch on BBC Scotland.

Liechtenstein's football team is not strong. They won 1 of their last 48 games. Most players are part-time and play in lower Swiss leagues.

Scotland's coach, Steve Clarke, added two new goalkeepers due to injuries. The team is preparing for World Cup games against Denmark in September.

Scotland wants to win 3 away games in a row. Clarke will coach his 68th game, matching a record. Scotland has had trouble with lower-ranked teams.
