

A new factory in Sheffield makes artillery and creates 200 jobs. BAE Systems runs it. Sheffield is now a UK hub for artillery howitzer production.

The factory is funded by export deals over £25 million. It will help 60 UK businesses and create jobs. It will make the M777 howitzer and more.

A new factory opens in South Yorkshire as part of a £6 billion plan to help the British defence industry.