

New UK digital ID plan by Starmer

Some worry the plan won't solve illegal work or immigration and might take away freedoms or affect law-abiding people.

The government uses online checks for workers. They want digital IDs to stop fake documents, but some worry about mistakes and proving identity often.