

Robots to Help with Nuclear Waste

The NDA is using robots to sort nuclear waste in South Gloucestershire. The project will cost up to £9.5 million over four years.

Robots will sort waste safely, saving money and keeping people safe. This helps clean nuclear sites with new, fast, and accurate technology.

The NDA wants to use this project's lessons to improve waste management on other sites, making it better and safer for all.