

King Charles met Trump at Windsor.

3000 people in London protested against Trump, away from royal events in Windsor, showing their feelings about his visit.

The state visit and protests were big news. Many people watched as the media showed different sides of the event.