

Palestine seeks statehood recognition.

The Palestinian Authority and Hamas rule different areas. People want new leaders since the last elections were in 2006. Many want more peace efforts.

Some countries think recognising Palestine could help, but Israel disagrees. Palestinians want peace and hope for their own state with strong leaders.