

Israel has started a big attack on Iran, hitting places linked to Iran's nuclear plans and air defences.

Mossad, Israel's spy group, found key people in Iran. Some military leaders and scientists died. Iran says 78 died, including children.

Israel thinks Iran wants a bomb. Iran says it's for peace. Israel feels unsafe and wants to stop Iran.

In 2015, a deal slowed Iran's nuclear work but ended in 2018. Israel thinks now is a good time to act. Nearby countries worry about more fighting.

Israel hopes the attack will stop Iran's nuclear plans and maybe change its leaders. Talks with the US might not stop Israel from acting.

If Iran makes a nuclear bomb, other countries might want one too, which could make the Middle East more dangerous.