

Man in Trouble for Fake Uniform

A 64-year-old man was charged for wearing a military uniform without permission at a Remembrance Sunday event, pretending to be a navy officer.

The police acted fast. They ask people not to share online. Jonathan Carley will go to court on 11 December.

The event upset many, as it was on Remembrance Sunday. Police ask people to be careful online to keep the court case fair.