

The UK and Australia talked about their trade deal on 3 June 2025. They were happy with their strong money ties. They met in Paris.

In 2024, UK and Australia trade was big. Special tariff rules saved money for businesses and people.

Ministers say free trade is important for both countries. They want strong, fair trade rules and to help people with jobs and new ideas.

They agreed to make trade better for both countries. They will also work with groups like the World Trade Organization.