

A plane crash in India killed 270 people. A 40-year-old British man survived. People in India and the UK are holding vigils to remember them.

Officials are checking how many died. They use DNA to know who they are. Families wait for news. The crash is very sad.