

The UK and India want to work together on trade and migration. The Foreign Secretary will visit India to help UK businesses grow and create jobs.

The UK and India have a new trade deal. It will grow trade by £25 billion yearly, help the UK economy, and support new ideas and technology.

The Foreign Secretary will talk with Indian leaders about making travel between the UK and India better and safer.

The UK and India are teaming up in arts, culture, and business to grow and create jobs. The UK wants Indian businesses to invest more easily.