

Derek Warwick, a former F1 driver, was suspended as a steward for comments. He will return for the Austrian Grand Prix.

Warwick agreed with a penalty for Max Verstappen after a crash at the Spanish Grand Prix. As a steward, he must stay neutral.

The FIA changed rules, which some say hurt its reputation. The FIA says stewards make their own choices and won't comment on them.