

The EU is Israel's main trade partner and can help change the war in Gaza. Some European countries see the problems and want to help.

Some countries like Spain, Ireland, and Slovenia support Palestine. Hungary and the Czech Republic support Israel.

Some European countries are now speaking up about the war. The UK stopped trade talks with Israel, and France might use sanctions.

The EU may stop giving Israel special trade benefits. Many countries need to agree for this change to happen.

Stopping trade benefits won't end the war fast. But it shows the EU wants Israel to change, which may help stop more people from getting hurt later.
