

New Rules for Animal Medicines

The VMD has new rules to keep animal medicines safe in Great Britain. This is called Good Distribution Practice (GDP).

Rules help keep records, train workers, store medicines right, and handle problems. They keep animals and people healthy.

Dealers must follow rules for selling vet medicines. The VMD checks this. For more help, visit the VMD website or contact their Inspections Team.